

Counter-Surfing Prevention Checklist

Counter surfing rewards itself: every crumb a dog finds up there keeps the habit alive. Make the counter boring and empty, give your dog something better to do, and teach “place” and “leave it”, and know which stolen foods mean a call to the vet.

MANAGEMENT (DOES MOST OF THE WORK)

- ☐ Clear counters, every time, for everyone in the house
- ☐ Food in cabinets, the fridge or airtight containers
- ☐ Cooking? Food back from the edge; dog behind a gate with a chew
- ☐ Trash and compost in a lidded bin the dog can't open
- ☐ Same rules for the whole household, guests included
- ☐ No scolding after the fact: the food already paid off

TRAINING (5-10 MINUTES A DAY)

- 1

“Place”: reward your dog on its bed, then build time, distance and distraction.
- 2

Send to place while you cook, with a food toy there.
- 3

“Leave it” on a ladder: soap, household items, raw potato, then real food.
- 4

The reward must beat the item your dog is leaving.
